Afterword

Greetings, good mornevening. 7001 here. Thank you very much for choosing this book!

The truth is, this is my first doujinshi...
It may be low-quality in all sorts of ways, but I hope you find something to enjoy in it.

I'd heard that there was an anime called "Yuru Yuri" and happened to see the third episode on Nico Nico Douga.

Back when the summer anime lineup was announced, I watched the trailer for it and thought "Oh, so it's just another moe show," and ignored it.
Ah, what a fool I was! lol
When I saw episode 3, I though "Ah, so it isn't just a moe show after all...?" and upon rewatching the first episode I totally got into it.
As they say, you can't judge a book by its cover!

Before I knew it I had collected all of the tonkobon volumes and DVDs, and gotten a Yuri Hime subscription, and that's not all; I also started drawing lots of Yuru Yuri fanart for Pixiv.
And so, I eventually decided to make this doujinshi.

My favorite characters (or rather, my favorite pairings) from Yuru Yuri are Himasaku＊and Sakuhima!
I won't be shaken or swayed from that at all!
So, how did you like this Himasaku＊and Sakuhima book?
Though I wasn't really intending it, it looks like "Himawari's handmade sweets" was something of a motif.
I hope you could feel the tenderness between their everyday selves.
In any case, I enjoyed just being able to draw Himasaku＊and Sakuhima!

A second anime season has been announced, as well as a Himasaku＊and Sakuhima drama CD!
It looks like I still can't let myself die!
Not that I was planning to die anyway!
Anyway, I hope to see you again next time.
Until then.
